

STAR WARS

ECHOES OF THE FORCE

Story & Mission Document - Calico Bezuidenhout

Story Synopsis:

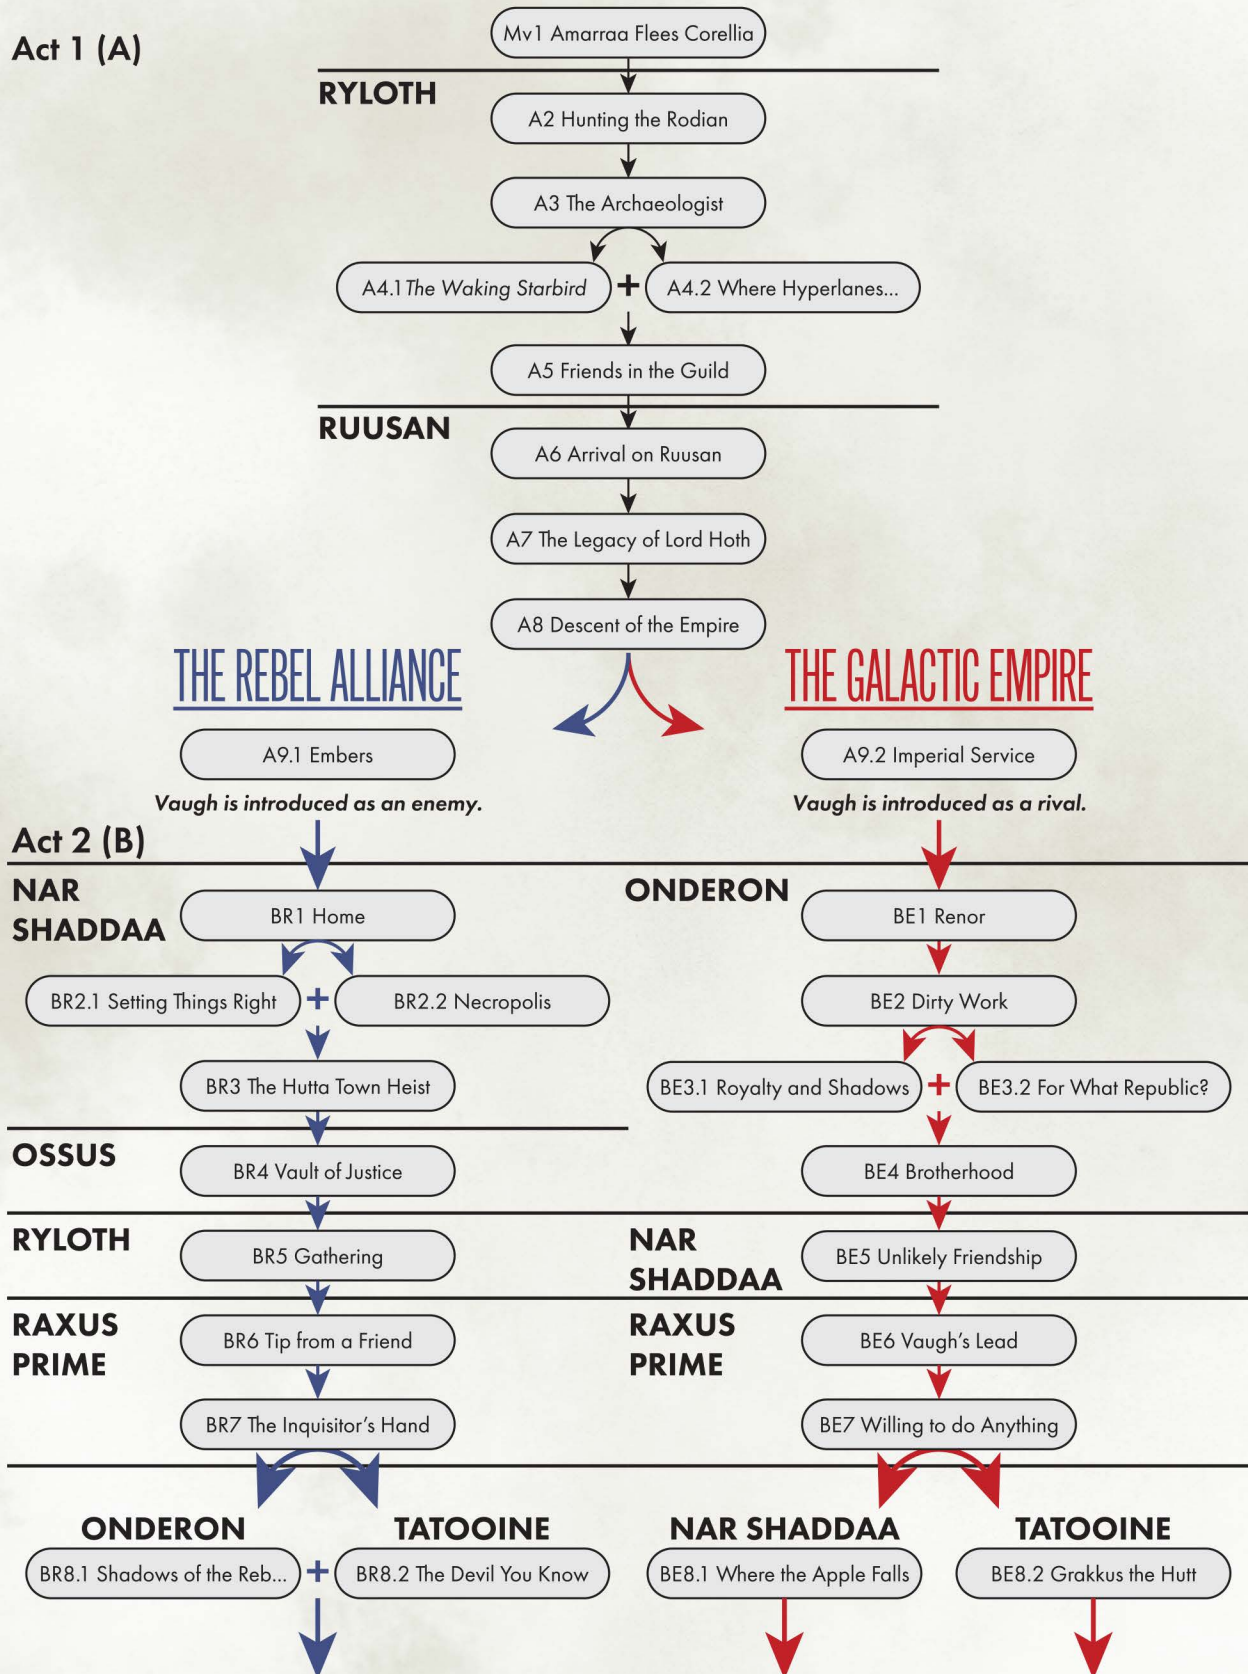

Running short on credits, the Bounty Hunter Jen Vroon takes up an extra job outside of the Bounty Hunters Guild as protection for archaeologist Amarraa Liur. When their search leads them to the isolated planet of Ruusan, they make the startling discovery that somewhere in The Slice exists an ancient Holocron- a repository of Jedi knowledge and secrets. Things go awry when a narrow encounter with the Empire forces Jen to choose between fleeing with Amarraa to the Rebellion, or being hired by the Empire.

Now, in search of the Holocron, Jen must scour the rim for clues, maps, and information. Their new foe is the powerful inquisitor Vaugh, who seeks the holocron for herself. Searching across Ossus, Raxus Prime, and Onderon, Jen struggles to stay ahead of their cunning foe. When a well laid trap on Raxus Prime leads to Vaugh leaving Jen for dead, Jen must survive and follow in the footsteps of the Inquisitor across the Galaxy.

With the search leading the the graveyards of Boz Pity, Jen must finally confront and defeat their nemesis- for the fate of the galaxy depends on it.

Welcome to the city of...

JEDDEEN

RYLOTH

Nestled in the far reaches of The Slice, Jeddeen stands as a smaller sibling to Ryloth's capital of Lessu City. On the fringes the Empire's galactic control, it is a popular destination for fugitives on the run, and for bounty hunters looking to find a mark.

Built into a mountain that was blown open during the Clone Wars, the dangers in Jeddeen's narrow streets and cluttered buildings will keep you on your toes.

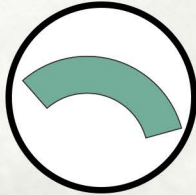

Locations

- ① Amarraa's Corellian freighter, The Waking Starbird.
- ② The front gates to the mountain city of Jeddeen.
- ③ The merchant sector of Jeddeen, its vendors stocked full of blasters, tech, and gear.
- ④ The Bounty Hunters Guild Hall for the city of Jeddeen.
- ⑤ A hideout for the Black Sun Syndicate, which trades illicit goods.
- ⑥ A housing complex, hiding a small cell of the Rebel Alliance.
- ⑦ The Estate of Attus Dex, a sly, weasly thief and information broker.

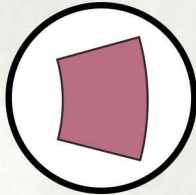

Zones on Jeddeen

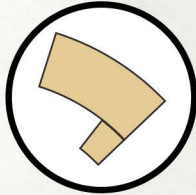

Ryll Belt - Moving through the heart of Jeddeen, the Ryll Belt was once one of the largest spice mines on Ryloth- until it ran dry, bringing economic ruin to the belt. Now, its a collection of cluttered duracrete housing and businesses- both legal, and otherwise.

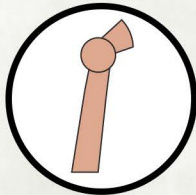

Kala'ann - The oldest part of the city, Kala'ann is home to Jeddeen's Ruling Council, and in the middle of the conflict between the presence of the Empire, the Rebellion, and the Free Ryloth Movement. It is also the location of The Dizzy Blurr Cantina.

Lylek's Nest - A dark place in Jeddeen, always in the shadow of the mountain. Home of the Bounty Hunter's Guild, and everything a bounty hunter would need- from a place to sleep, to direct access to Jeddeen's merchant sector.

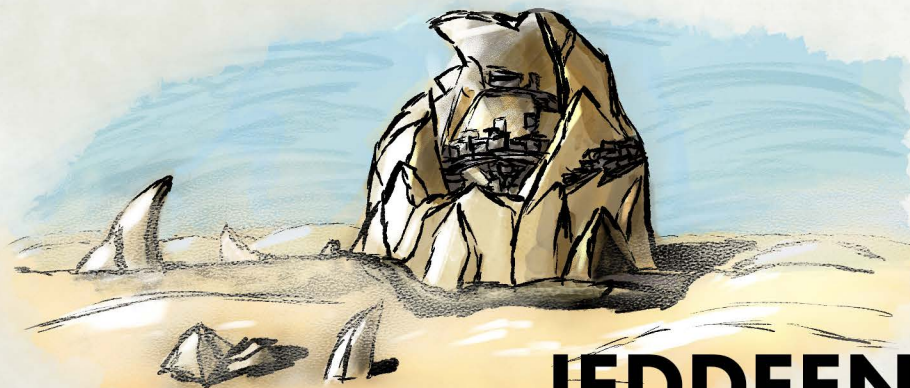

Memorial Gardens - The old Estate here dates back a few thousand years, but the gardens is a new site in Jeddeen created to memorialize the Battle of Ryloth during the Clone Wars.

Jeddeen Landing Strip - While little more than a dusty durasteel landing platform suspended over the maw of Jeddeen's crater, the strip is full of smuggling operations and bears a history of shootouts that leaves it with a deadly reputation.

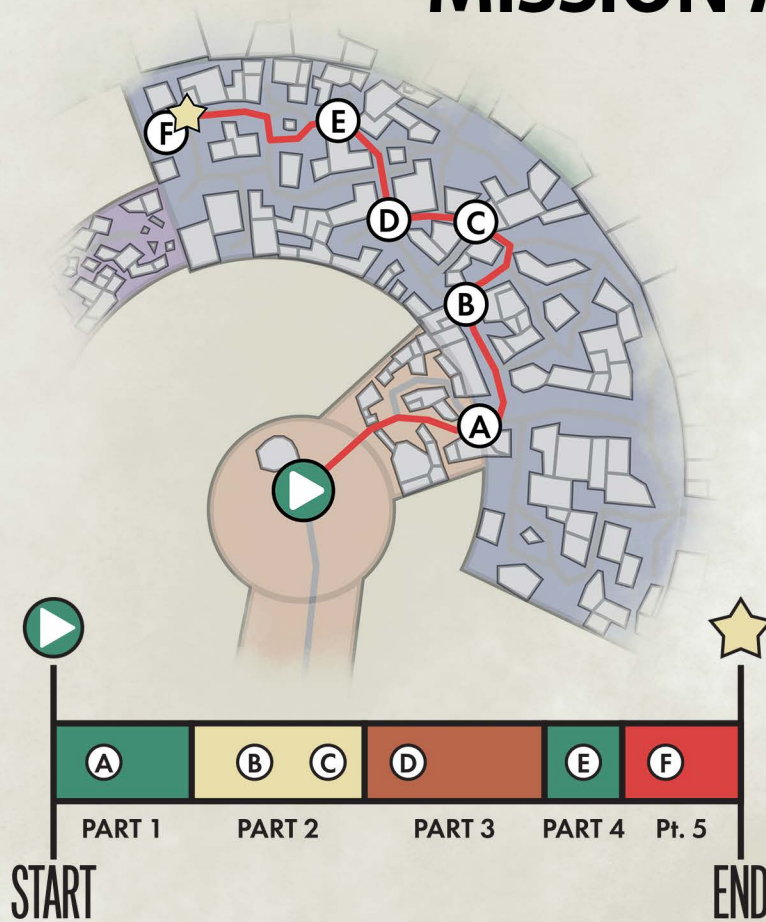

The Rubble - During the Battle of Ryloth, the city of Jeddeen was devastated by a turbolaser. While accounts of which side fired the shot are contested, the abandoned, shambled buildings of The Rubble is what remains of Jeddeen's collapsed western wing.

INT. THE RUBBLE, JEDDEEN, RYLOTH - JUST AFTER SUNSET

Smoke cycles from Jen's blaster pistol. The red cloaked figure of JEN VROON stands in the center of the collapsed factory in THE RUBBLE. Strewn around them are the remains of scout droids, still sparking from the battle that just took place.

Behind Jen is another scout droid, hiding in the shadows of the rafters. Its mounted blaster takes aim, centered on Jen, when-Blam! A shot takes out the sneaky scout droid as Jen whirls around to see:

AMARRAA LIUR, (20's), Stands on a catwalk, a blaster carbine held nervously in two hands. The Mirialan Archaeologist lowers their weapon. She's wearing a pair of goggles over an aviator cap, and an olive vest. Scared, tired, but clearly determined to fight. The shoulder strap flaps around loosely as it hangs from the weapon.

JEN VROON

Nice shot. Thanks.

AMARRAA LIUR

(Suspicious of Jen)

You're a bounty hunter... I'm guessing you're here for work?

JEN VROON

If you're worried about why I'm here, you'll be happy to learn that I'm currently out of a job.

AMARRAA LIUR

Then you must've heard I'm hiring. Amarraa Liur.

JEN VROON

Jen Vroon. Say a little birdie told me... And now I can see why.

Jen kicks one of the scout droids at their feet.

These are some expensive toys. Arakyd droids, you've got a big price on your head, huh?

Amarraa slings the carbine over their shoulder, and steps their way down from the catwalk.

AMARRAA LIUR

A Duke, from Serenno... But, you'll make more money working with me than you'd get turning me in, I can assure you that.

JEN VROON

(Crossing their arms)
And how much would that be?

AMARRAA LIUR

Two thousand credits, now. Twelve thousand more- After a month's work.

Jen reacts visibly, galvanized by the amount of credits mentioned. Two thousand alone is almost twice the amount he has saved!

JEN VROON

(Failing to hide their excitement)
Well I'll- It'll have to I guess.
It'll surely do. You're in good hands- That Duke will have no luck against Jen Vroon.
